

Bill Print & Fulfillment

Save Money. Maximize Your Brand. Generate New Revenue.

Owning your own billing equipment is expensive. And, the money you spend on maintenance, paper, envelopes and postage continues to increase.

CHR's Bill Print and Fulfillment Services help our clients solve the challenges they are facing. Many companies are re-evaluating their current model for producing invoices, notices and other communication documents.

Transform your transactional invoices, notices and critical customer communication into vibrant marketing tools that drive results, reduce customer service calls and save money. Document composition, production and delivery from CHR will yield increased revenues, reduced costs and improved customer experience.
